Compulsory REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>'domestic' in the Abstract should be replaced by 'national' . Insert 'in' before existing problems'. The closing bracket ')' after (etc.) should be deleted. There will be a stop (.)after 'coil'.</li> <li>Explain 'Hall elements'.</li> <li>It is written 'learn', but what is to be 'learned' is not mentioned. Please explain clearly.</li> <li>Delete (.) after 'from it' and then write 'and to summarize'. This will make sense.</li> <li>There will be a stop (.) after 'space'. Try to write in "passive voice".</li> <li>In section C, comma (,) before 6 is to be deleted.</li> <li>This paper has descriptive discussion without having any analytical discussion and numerical results.</li> <li>The sentence "Volume.....fields." does not carry any sense. It is to be corrected. Syntax and construction of sentences are to be checked thorough for the improvement of the paper. In the penultimate sentence of the section of Discussion, the correction of " Make.....acceleration sensors." is required to convey meaning.</li> <li>Throughout the discussion you have written "magnetic liquid" and in the discussion section it is written "magnetic fluid". These two terms are to be explained as fluid includes gas. The term "magnetic liquid" requires explanation. Try to maintain consistency. Magnet is a solid material. Why it is called a liquid or a fluid? It requires an explanation.</li> <li>If all the above points are taken into account by the author, the paper may be considered for publication..</li> </ol>
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Key words should be separated by semicolon (;) instead of comma (,).</li> <li>The MSC no. should be given after Key words.</li> </ol>
