Compulsory REVISION comments	In this article, the author does not know the relationship of COVID-19 infection and also, the development of Bell's palsy. In the article I wrote entitled Energy Alterations and Chakras' Energy Deficiencies and Propensity to SARS-CoV-2 Infection https://actascientific.com/ASMI/pdf/ASMI-04-0822.pdf , I am demonstrating that patients prior to COVID-19 pandemic, has in the back ground, energy deficiency in the five internal massive organs (Liver, Heart, Spleen, Lungs and Kidney) and the functions of all these organs are to produce internal energy of Yin, Yang, Qi and Blood, important to our immune system. In another article I wrote entitled Energy Alterations and Chakras Energy Deficiencies in the Pathophysiology of Bell's Palsy https://www.gavinpublishers.com/assets/articles_pdf/1589532534article_pdf399043630.pdf I am also saying that patients with bells palsy have energy deficiency inside the five internal massive organs and for this reason, both diseases have the same energy deficiency inside the five internal massive organs and Bells palsy, in this case, is not caused by the SARS-CoV-2 infection but by the entrance of external pathogenic factors (Cold, Wind, heat, Humidity and Dryness) that is going inside the patient's body, together with the entrance of SARS-CoV-2 virus. The treatment needs to fortify the patient's internal energy and not just treating the symptoms (bell's palsy itself). So, in this article, there is a lack of explanations of how is the mechanism of production of bells palsy in Covid-19 infection and these explanations are all in the energy level, invisible by the naked eyes.
