Compulsory REVISION comments	Overall Summary : The study was a retrospective analysis of the histopathological spectrum of cervical lesions. The manuscript was properly constructed and backed by adequate statistical support. However, i suggest a few major revisions that will enhance the manuscript quality. <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. The study describes only the frequency of cervical lesions in different age groups. It was mentioned in materials and methods that clinical profile was retrieved from the archives. But the datas were not included in the result section. Patients clinical presentation with/without colposcopic findings shall be added and correlated with histopathological diagnosis.</li><li>2. Representative microphotographs of different cervical lesions and their histological findings shall be added.</li></ol>
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. No prognostic factors were discussed in the study. Hence the statement shall be removed from conclusion.</li></ol>
