Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript is clear and well written, it will be of interest for readers of "Journal of Pharmaceutical Research International", for which I suggest publication after some minor comments reported below: Although the number of the samples in this study is very low, but it is reasonable the authors concluded that the use of Budesonide is rare in their region. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. It is recommended explaining more why the study on prescribing pattern of budesonide nebulizer and budesonide nasal is important. 2. Please clarify why the authors conduct the research just on "nebulizer and nasal spray". 3. It is recommended mentioning some of the side effects of Budesonide in the paragraph 1 of the "Introduction" to clarify why its prescriptions requires medical attention. 4. The authors should consider using more peer reviewed papers as references comparing to the organizations' protocols and websites. 5. Also, in the "Results and Discussion" section, a comparison of the results with the literature would be beneficial. 6. In the first paragraph of the "Introduction", reference number 1 used twice, please make it one and mention it at the end of the paragraph.
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. It is recommended to remove the nationality of the patients in the Table 1, as it does not contribute to any conclusions in this study.
