Compulsory REVISION comments	All corrections should be done before the start of publication. The manuscript fall in the scope and aims of the JPRI The scientific quality as well as soundness is to some extend okay Discussion is very short and not much explained. Not add any reference in the conclusion. Some journal names are written completely in the reference list ,while others were abbreviated (should be the same style). Author (s) repeated several times :Available from in the reference list (should be removed as page numbers, volume and issue numbers ----Enough). Reference number (5&37)---capital highlighted ----Why The coloured figures are not enough and also not cleared The author (s) did not mention any things about the other systems of antioxidants Plan of the site of plant collection (coloured) will be good Are the free radicals beneficial for the human body ----clear that In experimental pathology ,use laboratory animals such as rats or mice and induce intoxication by certain intoxicant materials then add the antioxidant suspected plants and measure the some parameters regarding the antioxidant activities--it more reasonable for my opinion.
