If yes, kindly correct Further more genetic predispositions, personal behavior such as oral hygiene, smoking and systemic diseases such as diabetes mellitus, play an important role in the etiopathogenesis of periodontitis which may leadto loss of attachment, destruction of alveolar bone and to periodontal pocket formation ultimately causing tooth loss. Recent studies indicate that the co-morbid presence of periodontitis can in turn adversely affect diabetic status. Diabetes mellitus and periodontal disease are both multifactorial diseases withhigh prevalence world wide. Periodontitis has been identified as the sixth complication of diabetes. – These statements lack references to back them up. Kindly input.
