Add your method of data gathering and it's source ... the later phase of first wave, various religious, cultural, ritualistic processions and gatherings were found to be happening along with political rallies and meetings. This also lowered the fear about the deadly disease and people were in fool's paradise thinking that the pandemic of COVID-19 is far left behind. Governmental authorities and law enforcement agencies were also loosen their noose and gave somewhat free hand to all these happenings. All these have accumulated to widespread mutation and spread of the disease through masses. Also, flight restrictions were eased up and international flights were started for short duration, resulting in mutation of international lineage which has greater stability. Now in the worst hit country of India,
