PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	Although I do not intend to downplay the scientific value of the manuscript, I strongly urge the authors to revise the English version of the manuscript, if possible with the help of a native English speaker. In its current form, there are many mistakes that make the manuscript difficult to understand (please see the red marks in the manuscript).
Minor REVISION comments	Even though the manuscript is entitled "Covid-19 in cancer patients", the manuscript seems to be more about cancer, respectively lung cancer, than about SARS-CoV-2 infection in patients with lung cancer. From the title I expected to find more data on the frequency and severity, etc of corona virus infection in lung cancer patients. Please pay attention to the abstract: "SARS-CoV-2 has demonstrated to cause more severe symptoms in a immunocompromised patients." "There is no difference in symptoms seen in normal person infected with the infection and person with immunocompromised patients."
Optional/General comments

PART 2:
