PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	The introduction is well documented by making a comparison between the opinions of international experts, but also referring to the problematic situation, prevalence and factors associated with the current epidemiological situation. The authors of the paper make a good quality distribution of all research variables, making a very good mix between theory and practice. The results attest that the quality of the research reflects those mentioned in the introduction and methodology. They provide consistent work in the category of defined value for research and related sciences, but provide valuable information for professionals and researchers. The discussion provides valuable information on the established prevalence situation and the factors associated with the current epidemiological situation in the studied geographical area, combining information from the international literature with the field situation in the current pandemic period.
Minor REVISION comments
Optional/General comments
