Compulsory REVISION comments	Each case presentation is different and there will always be something to learn from it. In this case report, the author(s) failed to present anything new about the case or in the treatment. The whole manuscript is flawed to grammatical errors, logical inconsistencies, and incoherence. The authors also failed to follow the author's guideline for a case report. This made the current arrangement and organization of the manuscript to be poor with disjointed information. Some of the issues with the manuscript are pointed out in the revised version. I strongly advise that the authors consult an expert in English or a medical native speaker to help in revising the manuscript and following the author's guideline.
Minor REVISION comments	Some of areas requiring improvements are presented in the manuscript. There are also some inconsistencies with the references.
Optional/General comments	The authors should endeavour to read a number of similar published articles on same case, especially from this journal. This will help in improving and revising the manuscript to a considerable international standard.
