Inflammopharmacology, 23(5), 203–229. https://doi.org/10.1007/s10787-015-0246-z - Genus Terminalia: A phytochemical and Biological Review. https://www.longdom.org/open-access/genus-terminalia-a-phytochemical-and-biological-review-2167-0412-1000218.pdf RESULTS AND DISCUSSION -Chemical structures of some of the bioactive isolated compounds should be supplied. Their mechanisms of action should be unravelled. -It would have been interesting to correlate the results of phytochemistry and bioactivity with ethnobotanical reports on this species. -Some hints on toxicity of the plants is required, and any clinical studies or herbal products made from them.
