Compulsory REVISION comments	The title of this manuscript is "genomics of human papillomavirus-induced cervical cancer". Although the viral genome and the biological process of HPV-induced tumorigenesis have been described in detail, I suggest the author should also describe the characteristics of the human genome of HPV-infected cervical cancer.
Minor REVISION comments	Several studies reported HPV integration could disrupt human genome and thus activate or inactivate oncogenes and tumor suppressors (PMID: 25581428, 3029760). This should also be described and discussed in the manuscript
Optional/General comments	The authors provide a comprehensive review of genomic of HPV-induced cervical cancer. The manuscript is well-written.
