Compulsory REVISION comments	The women right of property like any other social right, should no longer be a problem in the 21 st century. I notice that in the current studied region even the right to education and information represent an acute problem. Using the media to solve this problem is welcome even though it is childish. Government involvement is a solution with real chances of success. The involvement of women in various forms of property management or associational forms can be beneficial in bringing added value. I hope that this study will sound the alarm at the level of the competent authorities
Minor REVISION comments
Optional/General comments	I warmly recommended to publish this study, hoping that national and international authorities apply the adequate measurements.
